

New starts this time - Outpost and 1856. There is still time to join the Outpost - we're using the average start so just send orders for Minstrel 298. The Outpost start is on page 6 and the new 1856 game starts on page 2. John Shelley has sent comments on 1830A20 and these can be located quite easily on page 7.

Steve is back and playing his position in the Outpost which is good - thanks to Dane for helping out there. This issue's ten sides are pretty much packed out sparing you my words and wisdom for this time. Just room to say thanks for all the prompt orders - and I already have quite a few for Minstrel 298. Good stuff.

OUTPOST M6

ROUND 16

A veritable bun fight with David emerging as the leader and three tied for second place on points (but of course separated by the amount spent on Colony Cards). One would expect next time to be the last time.

Rats. I let the SP build track illegally last time. I have now indicated the impassable hex sides to the east of New Orleans. Thanks to David who pointed it out - although it meant that his GMO did not lay any track. Mike's starting position (track, cash, Credit) is also different from that which he thought - so I am holding the game over. The revised adjudication is below. Apologies. A further comment on this game ...

John S Congratulations to George on his victory. Dumping the PRR onto Dave early on having bought it loads of trains seemed like a good wheeze, particularly as I got the NYC. Having bought the CPR I was hoping to place one of its bases in New York, but I was much too obvious and Andy got the NYNH there first. Somehow I miscalculated and the CPR didn't get the permanent train I'd intended. From there on it was a case of pay myself as much cash as possible and ramp up the share price, so that I'd have a minimum number to sell when the Diesels arrived. I was rather relieved when I realised that David wasn't retaining to get a Diesel. Thanks to Rob for running the game.

Last time, for no apparent reason, I charged David 6 - rather than the correct 13 - to upgrade a Market to the Hermitage. So he starts this phase with 8 Rubles. You can tell I do this game manually. Mike comments "A cruel and unnatural Aristocrat card-draw if I may say so.". I can only agree - the same thing (two Black Markets dealt) has happened to me in a game being run in For Whom the Die Rolls. Well, I say it happened to me, of course it happened to all the players but it just feels so jolly personal.
