

18xx games from page 2 in order of starting. Except that 1856Z23 & 18EUU24 are held over. Also missing - Railway Rivals 2093BR, Outpost M8 & St. Petersburg M2. Stephen Webb was more than reasonably distracted by the death of his father. Gina Teh had email and then motherboard problems - a new laptop is due soon so hopefully all games will be present and correct next time. No new games starting this time.

So - it's a light issue this time. Even so it took a while as (I guess) the summer delayed many of the orders that did get through. No sweat. The next two deadlines are five weeks after the previous one - this helps with absences due to holiday including my next one in September. At work the holidays are causing me to be so very busy as (a) the relevant holidays are mostly Dutch like my boss being away for four weeks and (b) the dismemberment of ABN AMRO to RBS, Fortis & Santander generates a ton of work, crashes onwards unabated and generates a slew of FUD (Fear, Uncertainty & Doubt) that seeps into every crevice. Lovely.

In the dealing three players were forced to sell shares as they were over the certificate limit. When the last one of those - Roger - sold one GT share the drop in its price meant that the other two - Graham & Lyndon - were now under the certificate limit and could buy more shares.

Next time we'll try to go all the way to the presumed end of the game in OR20 ...
