GITCO & WEBBS are in the most popular places for other player incursions. MIKER has the most popular score as the operating rounds start. A reminder that the build point allowances does not include payments to other players - but don't go too mad. Unless you want that.

It started out with everybody buying the cheapest available worker until John decided to pay an extra ruble for the greater flexibility of the Czar & Carpenter (compared to a Ship Builder). Then Brad declined the chance to buy the last Ship Builder leaving that for Mike to add to his collection.
