Graham L 1st Thanks to Rob for running the game and the other layers for a good contest. Despite the result, I do not recommend anyone failing to get any Privates in OR1!

COMMENTS

Mike R 1st Surely a 54 point lead is enough for victory - even with limited opportunities this time. If it was - hurrah - and I never doubted my inevitable victory from turn one. If it wasn't, then congratulations to David, who I imagine is the only one who could catch me. Either way, I do like the Dixie map which requires a change in thinking from the traditional "Big-X" in the middle of the map - though I'm not entirely convinced of its balance without a bit of GM-intervention to force an even spread of starting locations. Had I had any serious competition in the North-East I certainly wouldn't have done so well, but the concentration of the opposition in the South West gave me a massive advantage, and I was able to build most of what I planned to cover the 1s, 2s, 3s and 6s virtually without competition. Lucky me.

Tony S 3rd As I suspected, left it a bit late.... Tried too many times to go around the mountains, maybe should have blasted a few tunnels early on, but it was not to be.

David H 4th I was doing OK until the last round, in which I could run only one race competitively, and lost. Congratulations to Mike and thanks to Rob for running it. Thanks for adjudicating and congratulations to Mike on his narrow win ☺

John W 5th RR I used to be good at this game, what happened? I thought that I could at least say that I wasn't last then I find that it was Steven's first game ( no fun against this bunch of tigers), congratulations to everyone, please put me down for another one.

GM Luck is always involved in RR ... more so in this map than some ... but Mike worked for his luck and it paid off. Mike's orders were always the most helpful and that again is a clue to his success. A special thank you to Stephen who tried RR for the first time and I suspect is unlikely to try it again - I think the problem was that he was looking for greater depth and was foxed by the simplicity of the game's surface. Or summat.

Rights Held by ShareCos : GT - Bridge | CGR - Tunnel.

The OR11 operating order is - GT, CA, BBG, CGR, WR, CV.

This time there as minimal dealing action as all players foresaw the grotting of the Midland. In fact the only purchaser was the aforesaid grotter.

Next time we stop after SDR8 if a 3 train was bought in OR7 and/or if the last new Midland share was bought in SDR8.

The OR5 operating order is - 8, 14, SNCF, DR, KBS, SNCB, KKOS, NS.

The B&O Private Company was not bought so we move into OR1 and wonder what will happen in SR2. If the B&O is not bought in SR2 then we will have OR2 & SR3.

So ... no operating orders required from anybody come what may.
