1856N40COMMENT

Ian P

I would like to thank Rob for the substantial time and effort he has spent moderating this game. Congratulations to Graham on winning yet another game of 1856.

It would be reasonable to comment that Graham winning a game of 1856 is not unusual. However Graham normally wins by at least a thousand, so restricting his margin of victory to less than two hundred is a distinct performance improvement by the other competitors. Perhaps in the far distant future, someone will manage to defeat him.

You are ... in dealing order ... Tim Parkes, George Lucas, John Shelley, John Webley. You each have 475M.

You all know all about the Half Thompson variations - but any queries received will be answered. I have blithely assumed that a 4 player game is okay - but let me if you prefer not!

DEADLINE : FRIDAY 20TH JULY 2018HOST : ROB THOMASSON

I will say that, in 1829, trains cannot run into stations that are fully garrisoned by other companies. I will also say that, in OR14, the L&YR Receiver will try to promote M5 to a 12 tile, with a promotion of L4 as the second (and only other) choice. The L&YR Survey party will move to M6.
